

Mini Workshop on: "Network and Search"

At Keio University and Keio Economic Observatory, March 15, 2022

Venue: Zoom.

This is an initiative by Keio University. The purpose of this workshop is to bring network and search circles together to develop two fields.

Main sponsors: Keio Economic Observatory, Nomura Foundation, and Japan Society for the Promotion of Science KAKENHI No. 20K20510.

Program

13:00-14:10: First Session

Noritaka Kudoh (Nagoya University), Prominence and Market Power: Asymmetric Oligopoly with Sequential Consumer Search (with Makoto Hanazono)

14:15-15:25: Second Session

Teruyoshi Kobayashi (Kobe University), Diffusion of Competing Goods on Networks

15:30-16:00: Third Session

Yuki Teranishi (Keio University), Search and Match over Product Life Cycle: Observations and Implications (with Toshiaki Shoji)

Organizer

Yuki Teranishi (Keio University)

People interested in attending this event are kindly required to contact Yuki Teranishi via the following account: yukitera@fbc.keio.ac.jp